Excerpt from Monthly Bayan:

The bayan was given by Maulana Abdullallah Islam who started the bayan by asking about our intention of attending the bayan. Our answer should have been, "for the sake of Allah". Allah has given us the opportunity to come to his house of worship. Intention is very important in our religion. Whatever we do, we should have the intention of doing it for the sake of Allah. Whatever good we listen, we should practice it. If we hear something amazing, and don't become a better Muslim because of it, then we have lost the advantage of sitting in the gathering of learning.

Allah says in the Quran, "there will be turmoil on land and on sea due to the hands of man". When we see injustice, something wrong, or a calamity, we should think why it is happening. Whatever happens it happens with the permission and knowledge of Allah. It happens because of the wrong deeds human beings have done.

The system of Allah is perfect and we tend to mess it up. Let's take the example of food. When we eat a banana, the left over part is its peel. When we throw it away it becomes part of the soil because of the system of Allah. The garbage of one thing becomes food for the other thing. There is a perfect ecosystem unless we humans become involved. When we eat a candy bar and throw the wrapper which is made of plastic and ink on it, it doesn't get absorbed or decomposed.

Allah has created everything on earth for us. But the purpose is not to make us masters on earth, instead we are supposed to submit to Allah. Allah is the kindest and knows all of our mistakes. All of us make mistakes and Allah doesn't punish us immediately for our sins. When we make mistakes on the ground which worships Allah, it sees us doing sins. It doesn't sink us in it, but asks Allah if it can punish us, and then Allah asks have you created this slave, and it says no. So it can't touch us without the command of Allah. Allah gives us time and a chance to stop our sins, when we deserve punishment, showing us how kind He is. Whatever calamities we see, these are a fraction of what we deserve. Whenever we go through hardships we call Allah. When we are celebrating, who do we call? Very few of us call Allah. So in a way, hardship is a way for us to get close to Allah. Whenever we get something good we should praise Allah. Allah says in the Quran, "very few of my slaves are thankful". We should be the ones who are thankful.

Maulana Sahib gave an example, if we have to give a gift to our mother and we like a cap and buy it for her, when our mother will see the cap she will say, it looks beautiful on you, so you keep it. This tells us we should have given her the gift she likes, not what we like. When we worship Allah it should not be the way we like. It should be the way Allah tells us. We have to obey Allah's commands, whether we like them or not. Allah tells us to be the kindest to our parents. We should listen to our parents and do whatever they tell us immediately, even if we don't like it. Our job is to make them happy every single day. May Allah make it easy for us to follow His commands. Ameen!
