Excerpt from Monthly Bayan:

In this month's bayan, Imam Jawad Ahmed spoke about the purpose for which the Prophet (PBUH) was sent down. The assumption is often made that the Messenger (PBUH) was sent to just the Muslims amongst the people. Rather, the role of the Prophet (PBUH) was to be a mercy for the entirety of creation. He (PBUH) came to teach us to show compassion to everyone and everything around us. As Muslims we should be active in forgiving and avoiding conflict wherever possible. In doing so, Imam Sahab assured us that the Muslims will be able to attain unity and fulfill the rights of kinship and brotherhood.

Imam Sahab then transitioned to emphasizing out the status of the Prophet (PBUH). He told us that all of creation praises him and sends blessings upon him day and night. When we join in with all those who are in veneration, the angels descend upon us, cover us with their wings, and make dua for us by name. Imam Sahab encouraged us to make it a part of our regular azkar to send salawat upon the Prophet (PBUH), as this is one of the easiest ways to show our love and respect for the best of creation. In doing so, it will be easier to then follow in his footsteps as well.

To conclude, Imam Sahab reminded us to maintain a good opinion of all those around us. One of the greatest issues in the Muslim community today is that we are too quick to pass judgement upon others. However, it is important to remember that people are limited to what we can perceive. The full truth lies only with Allah. To illustrate this point, Imam Sahab gave the example of a famous singer, Junaid Jamshed. Many would judge him and say that such a person would never become a good Muslim. But, through the work of one man's consistency and good opinion, the one-time famous singer became one of the greatest callers to Islam of our generation. As such, we should be optimistic that anyone has the potential to be guided and help those who are struggling with their journey.
